SUBLIMATION POLO

Sublimation printing is a process where dye is infused into the fabric with heat and pressure, allowing vibrant, detailed designs that won't crack, peel, or fade. Usually, sublimation works best on polyester or polyester-blend fabrics because the dye bonds with synthetic fibers.

Sublimation polos are great for custom designs, logos, patterns, or team uniforms with bright colors and intricate artwork.

The fabric is often lightweight and moisture-wicking, so they're popular for sportswear.
